The Laws of the Navy

By Captain Hopgood, R. N.

Now these are the laws of the Navy
Unwritten and varied they be
And he who is wise will observe them
Going down in his ship to the sea.

As naught may outrun the destroyer
So it is with law and its grip
For the strength of a ship is the service
And the strength of the service the ship.

Take heed what you say of your rulers
Be your words spoken softly or plain
Lest a bird of the air tell the matter
And so shall ye hear it again.

If you labor from morn until even
And meet with reproof for your toil
'Tis well, that the gun may be humbled
The compressor must check the recoil.

On the strength of one link in the cable
Dependeth the might of the chain
Who knows when thou may'st be tested
So live that thou bearest the strain.

Count not upon certain promotion
But rather to gain it aspire
Though the sight line may end on the target
There cometh perchance the miss-fire.

Can'st follow the track of the dolphin?
Or tell where the sea swallows roam?
Where Leviathan taketh his pastime
What ocean he calleth his own?

So it is with the words of thy rulers,
And the orders these words shall convey;
Every law is naught beside this one,
Thou shalt not criticise but obey.

Do they growl, it is well. Be thou silent,
So the work goeth forward amain.
Lo! the gun throws the shot to a hair's breadth
And shouteth, yet none shall complain.

Do they growl and the work be retarded
It is ill; be whatever their rank.
The half loaded gun also shouteth
But can she pierce target with blank?

Doth the paint work make war with funnels
And the decks to the cannon complain?
Nay, they know that some soap and fresh water
Unites them as brothers again.

So, ye, being heads of departments,
Do not growl with a smile on your lip,
Lest ye strive and in anger be parted,
And lessen the might of your ship.

Dost think in a moment of anger
'Tis well with thy seniors to fight,
They prosper who burn in the morning,
The letters they wrote overnight.

Should the fairway be crowded with shipping
Beating homeward the harbour to win,
It is meet that lest any should suffer
The steamers pass cautiously in.

So thou when thou nearest promotion
And the peak that is gilded is nigh,
Give heed to words and thine actions
Lest others be wearied thereby.

It is ill for the winners to worry,
Take thy fate as it comes, with a smile,
And when thou art safe in the harbour
They may envy but will not revile.

Unchartered the rocks that surround thee,
Take heed that the channels thou learn,
Lest thy name serve to buoy for another
That shoal the "Court Martial Return."

Though a Harveyised belt may protect her,
The ship bears the scar in her side;
'Tis well if the Court should acquit thee,
'Twere best had'st thou never been tried.

MORAL

As the wave rises clear at the hawse pipe,
Washes aft and is lost in the wake;
So shalt thou drop astern all unheeded
Such time as these laws ye forsake.

Take heed in your manner of speaking
That the language ye use may be sound,
In the list of the words of your choosing
"Impossible" may not be found.

This famous poem is reprinted by The IOWAVE as a service to Seamen who may wish to have a copy in their permanent possession.

The Captain Speaks

Apprentice seamen of Class 2-43, it is a real privilege to congratulate you upon the successful completion of the indoctrination course. You are a part of the Women's Reserve and we know you will measure up to the high standards already set for you by the two preceding classes here.

You have been abruptly called from your normal way of life, from your old homes and friends to participate more directly in a tremendous national effort. But this is all the more meaningful because you have done this voluntarily.

We know that you as American women will fill important service jobs in the Navy and that you will adequately carry out any assignment given you. Naturally, we at this training school, will always take great pride in your accomplishments; but the entire nation will watch your progress also. Therefore, it is expected that you will demonstrate to the world what the women who serve their country in Navy blue can do.

*R. K. DAVIS,
Commanding Officer*

The Commanding Officer

Captain
RANSOM K. DAVIS
United States Navy

Captain Ransom Kirby Davis, the Commanding Officer of this station, attended the University of Florida and was graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1920. Upon graduation, he served on the U.S.S. IDAHO. In the early twenties, Captain Davis served on the destroyers, WILLIAM JONES, KENNEDY, and CORRY. From 1925 to 1926 he had shore duty at which time he attended the Post Graduate School at Annapolis. Following this, Captain Davis attended Harvard University where he received his M. S. in Radio Engineering in 1927. For three years, he served with Admiral Blakely mostly on the light cruisers TRENTON and RICHMOND. He joined the RICHMOND in Manila and from there went to Honolulu where he joined the TRENTON. While serving on the TRENTON, he went to China where he spent one year.

In 1930 Captain Davis had shore duty in Washington, D. C., where he served in the Judge Advocate General's Office and attended George Washington University. He received his L. L. B. in 1933 from George Washington University. Captain Davis returned to sea duty on the U.S.S. NEW ORLEANS where he served in the capacity of assistant gunnery officer. In 1937 he returned to Washington, D. C., to spend two years in the Judge Advocate General's Office. From 1941 to 1942 Captain Davis was in command of the U.S.S. BORRAS which operated between San Francisco and Honolulu. Prior to coming to this Naval Training School, Captain Davis spent five months at the War College in Newport, Rhode Island.

The Executive Officer

EVERETT

EDWARD PETTEE

Lt. Commander, U. S. N.
(Ret.)

Lt. Comdr. Everett Edward Pettee, Executive Officer of this station, was graduated from the United States Naval Academy in 1921. He served on the battleship, U.S.S. NORTH DAKOTA and on the destroyers, U.S.S. GOLF and U.S.S. HUMPHRIES, and from 1928 to 1930, had shore duty at San Juan, Puerto Rico after which time he served on the cruisers, U.S.S. MEMPHIS and U.S.S. RICHMOND. Commander Pettee had shore duty at Charleston, S. C., followed by his serving for three years on the fuel ship, U.S.S. KANAWHA. He retired in 1938 and enrolled at the University of Chicago where he received his M. A. in Social Service Administration. In 1940, Lt. Comdr. Pettee was recalled to service to spend two years with the N.R.O.T.C. at the University of Minnesota. Before coming to this Naval Training School in November, he was the Instruction Officer at the W. R. Midshipmen's School at Northampton for three months.

Lt. Commander Pettee's Message

I have had the enviable experience of having served at the officer's training school at Smith College, and at this enlisted training school at Cedar Falls. The courses at these two schools are similar and it has been my observation that the response of the two groups of students are similar. The earnestness of the trainees, whether commissioned or enlisted, are at the same high level. One associated with the administration of such schools usually watches each class come and go with but a vague idea of how the graduates adjust themselves at new activities. Again I have been fortunate. This school has been staffed with officers of the women's reserve who were students in training while I was still at Smith College. I do not need to point out to you the quality of their services to this school. I do not need to hope or prophecy what YOUR contribution to the Navy will be after you leave here. The signs are unmistakable.

E. E. PETTEE
Executive Officer.

The Officer-in-Charge of Seamen

MARGARET
CRISWELL DISERT
Lt., U. S. N. R. (WR)

Lt. Margaret Criswell Disert, Officer-in-Charge of Seamen of this station, received her B.A. degree from Wilson College in 1916 and her M.A. degree in Mathematics from Columbia University. She served on the faculty of Wilson College for eighteen years in the capacities of instructor in Mathematics from 1924 to 1928, Registrar and Chairman of Admissions from 1928 to 1938, and Dean of Wilson College from 1938 until her enlistment in the WAVES. Miss Disert has had articles published in the New York Times and in the Wilson Alumnae Quarterly. She is a member of the National Association Deans of Women, Pennsylvania Association Deans of Women, American Mathematical Society, English Speaking Union, and American Association of University Women. After receiving her commission on August 4, Miss Disert went to the Philadelphia Office of Naval Officer Procurement as a member of the Selection Board, W. R. Miss Disert assumed her duties at this station in the early part of December, 1942.

Lieut. Disert's Message

Hail and farewell to the Class 2-43 at this Naval Training School: "Hail" because this is the first issue of the IOWAVE under your editorship; "Farewell" because your indoctrination course is already drawing to a close.

When you entered here on February 24, all the officers felt that you, individually and collectively, showed great promise. You have fulfilled our expectations and have made a very real contribution to the life of this school, to its traditions. It may seem strange to speak of traditions in a school that has been in operation only since the middle of December, but the 2,000 who preceded you and the 1,000 in your class have accomplished much in three months. You have developed a tradition for unity of purpose and action, high standards of military and academic performance, and pride in this school and in the Navy. Of such attitudes and accomplishments are traditions made.

As you go from this school to further training and active duty in the Navy, of which you are now an integral part, may you continue to feel stimulation, satisfaction, and release "in these firm ranks"; may your service be efficient, intelligent, selfless. Whatever your duties, you will know that the work is important to the Navy because it needs to be done. As a member of the Women's Reserve, United States Naval Reserve, you have a definite share in the winning of this war; you become a part of the history and tradition of the Navy.

MARGARET C. DISERT
Officer-in-Charge of Seamen.
